

2016 INSTITUTIONAL UPDATE QUESTIONS

The 2016 Institutional Update will take place February 29 – April 4, 2016. Submission of the Institutional Update is a requirement for maintaining accreditation or candidacy with HLC.

The questions for the 2016 Institutional Update are below with supporting information, including definitions and frequently asked questions.

FAQ: Who else should I plan to talk to in order to gather the information I need?

The Data Update Coordinator will need to talk to several people on your campus to complete the Institutional Update accurately. The coordinator should work closely with those individuals who submit your IPEDS Data and Title IV requests. In many institutions, these responsibilities are carried out by the Institutional Research and Financial Aid offices. In addition, the Institutional Update requests specific financial detail. Thus, the coordinator may need to consult with your institution's chief financial officer or whoever is responsible for your institution's budgets and audits.

FAQ: Can I save a partial entry and complete it at a later date?

Yes, you may save a partially completed Update and complete it at a later date.

Questions about the 2016 Institutional Update should be directed to inst-update@hlcommission.org.

Student Achievement

Background

HLC Policy on Public Information, Information about Student Achievement (FDCR.A.10.070)

An institution's information for students and the public shall include information regarding student achievement. This Information shall include student retention rates, completion rates or other information appropriate for the mission of the institution and its goals for students.

Institutions are required to publish student achievement data on the full range of its offerings. Data can be provided at the institutional or the program level, but if provided at the program level, should be provided for all programs.

This information typically includes retention rates, graduation rates, licensure exam pass rates, employment rates, acceptance to further study, or links to the College Navigator website, but in any case should be information appropriate for the institution's mission. Information provided should be clearly labeled on the website and linked from the home page, included within the top three levels of the website, or easily found through a search of related terms on the website. In addition, information should be presented in plain language with any technical terms defined and any necessary information on the method used to compile data included.

In 2014-15, HLC reviewed publication of information about student achievement and found your institution to meet this requirement. Does the institution continue to provide information to students and the public about student achievement?

FAQ: What is meant by "IPEDS Fall 2015 reporting date"?

Use the date that your institution uses to compile data for IPEDS. This is usually the 10th day of class (fall semester). A small number of institutions do not have final IPEDS numbers until spring (around mid-April). HLC will work with institutions to make sure that they are able to submit accurate data. Contact Joan Mitchanis at jmitchanis@hlcommission.org if you will not have final IPEDS numbers until spring.

FAQ: Why do we have to duplicate numbers that were already submitted to IPEDS? Why can't HLC get those numbers from IPEDS?

HLC uses IPEDS data in the Institutional Update wherever possible in an effort to reduce the data collection burden on our institutions. However, the IPEDS data that are publicly available are not from the current year. The Institutional Update relies on data for the current year. Therefore, institutions must also enter the data for the Institutional Update.

An LL.M. degree is to be counted as a master's degree.

FAQ: Should the Total Count of certificates include both credit and non-credit certificates awarded?

No, you should only include credit-bearing certificates in the Total Count. You should report all credit-bearing certificates or diplomas in the Total Count regardless of whether they are Title IV eligible.

FAQ: My institution doesn't award certificates, but we do award diplomas. Should we report the diploma programs?

Determine how many of the diplomas reported in the Total Count are Title IV eligible. If students in diploma programs receive Title IV financial aid, they should be counted and reported.

You should ask your financial aid department to identify which certificates and diplomas are Title IV eligible.

FAQ: Does "certificate-seeking" include "certification-seeking"?

DISTANCE EDUCATION AND CORRESPONDENCE EDUCATION

Instructions

- Review your institution's distance and/or correspondence education stipulation and confirm that you have reviewed that information.
- If the distance and/or correspondence education stipulation is not correct, contact HLC's institutional change team.
- Looking Ahead: In an effort to present a more complete picture of the offerings at member institutions, HLC is exploring the feasibility of collecting information regarding the institutional program offerings and publishing them in the Institutional Status and Requirements (ISR) Report. More information about this project will be available in the coming year.

Definitions

Distance-delivered Courses

Distance delivered courses are those in which all or the vast majority (typically 75 percent or more) of the instruction and interaction occurs via electronic communication, correspondence or equivalent mechanisms, with the faculty and students physically separated from each other.

Distance-delivered Programs

Distance-delivered programs are those certificate or degree programs in which 50 percent or more of the required courses may be taken as distance-delivered courses.

Federal Definition for Correspondence Education

Correspondence education means (1) Education provided through one or more courses by an institution under which the institution provides instructional materials, by mail or electronic transmission, including examinations on the materials, to students who are separated from the instructor. (2) Interaction between the instructor and the student is limited, is not regular and substantive, and is primarily initiated by the student. (3) Correspondence courses are typically self-paced. (4) Correspondence education is not distance education.

Federal Definition for Distance Education

Distance education means education that uses one or more of the following technologies (i) to deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor; and (ii) to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor, either synchronously or asynchronously. The technologies used may include: (i) the Internet; (ii) one-way and two-way transmission through open broadcast, closed circuit cable, microwave, broadband lines, fiber optics, satellite, or wireless communication devices; (iii) audioconferencing; or (iv) videocassettes, DVDs and CD-Roms, if the videocassettes, DVDs or CD-Roms are used in conjunction with any of the above technologies listed in clauses (i) through (iii).

Questions

BRANCH CAMPUSES – DOES NOT INCLUDE MAIN CAMPUS

Instructions

To ensure that students off campus have consistent access to Title IV federal student aid, institutions should work closely with their financial aid offices to make certain that information about off-campus operations is consistently reported to the U.S. Department of Education (USDE) and to HLC. HLC does not approve branch campuses or additional locations retroactively; therefore it is very important for institutions and the students they serve that institutions are very careful to seek approval well before any students matriculate at a new or relocated campus or additional location.

- A branch campus is “a location of an institution that is geographically apart and independent of the main campus of the institution.” HLC considers a location of an institution to be independent of the main campus if the location:
 - Is permanent in nature.
 - Offers courses in educational programs leading to a degree, certificate, or other recognized educational credential.
 - Has its own faculty and administrative or supervisory organization.
 - Has its own budgetary and hiring authority.
 - A branch campus must have all four of these attributes.
- Log in to HLC's Location & Campus Update System to update the information on your institution's branch campuses.
 - Enter a head count range for each branch campus based on the actual or anticipated enrollment for the current year.
 - Adding or modifying a branch campus requires prior HLC approval. Details about HLC's policies and procedures related to institution change can be found on the website.
 - The institution's locations should be reported the same to the U.S. Department of Education and HLC.

FAQ: We have some off-campus locations that offer only continuing education credits. Should these be included in the Off-Campus Operations sections?

No. You should include only those locations that offer academic credit.

FAQ: How should I report Interactive TV and Interactive Video?

Interactive TV and Interactive Video are considered distance education. According to the guidelines, if 50% or more of the courses in a program are offered via Interactive TV or Video or any form or combination of distance education modalities, the program should be included in the listing of Distance Education programs.

If students are required to be present at a location other than the main campus, you may also have to report this educational activity under Off-Campus Operations.

FAQ: We are asked to update the enrollment (headcount) in all the Off-Campus Operations sections. Is this cumulative for the entire year or for one semester?

Student enrollment is based on the actual or anticipated enrollment for the current year.

ADDITIONAL LOCATIONS

Instructions

To ensure that students off campus have consistent access to Title IV federal student aid, institutions should work closely with their financial aid offices to make certain that information about off-campus operations is consistently reported to the U.S. Department of Education (USDE) and to HLC. HLC does not approve branch campuses or additional locations retroactively; therefore it is important that institutions are careful to seek approval well before any students matriculate at a new or relocated campus or additional location.

- An additional location is defined as a place, geographically separate from any main or branch campus, where instruction takes place and students can do one or more of the following:
 - Complete 50 percent or more of the courses leading to a degree program.
 - Complete a full degree program.
 - Complete 50 percent or more of the courses leading to a Title IV eligible certificate.
 - Complete a degree program that they began at another institution even if the degree completion program provides less than 50 percent of the courses leading to a degree program.
 - There is no base or threshold number of students or distance from the campus necessary for a facility to qualify as an additional location under this definition.
 - An additional location typically does not have a full range of administrative and student services staffed by the facility's personnel; such services may be provided from the main campus or another campus.
 - A facility may provide access to instruction requiring students to be present at a physical location that receives interactive TV, video or online teaching. It is considered an additional location when 50 percent or more of a distance delivery program is available through one or more of these modalities at that facility.
- Log in to HLC's Location & Campus Update System to update the information on your institution's additional locations.
 - Enter a head count range for each additional location based on the actual or anticipated enrollment for the current year.

- Adding or modifying an additional location may require prior HLC approval. Details about HLC’s policies and procedures related to institutional change can be found on the website.

FAQ: How do I edit program information at additional locations?

Follow the link to update additional locations. ALOs can make changes to existing additional locations including programs offered. All programs must be entered using the CIP Code. Additional approvals may be required. HLC staff will contact you if additional information is required to process the change.

FAQ: In the past, I was able to add additional locations in the Institutional Update. Why can’t I add them this year?

The policies governing approval of addition locations changed in 2008. Now, all new locations must be reviewed according to HLC’s institutional change process. You should use the button provided to access the Locations and Campus Update System.

FAQ: Our college moved a location down the street; everything else is the same. Why can’t I enter this change in the Institutional Update?

Even if you are moving an existing operation down the street, such a move constitutes creating a new location. You will need to list the current location as “closed” or “inactive” and seek approval for the new location. In order to assure that you are in compliance with federal regulations, you must have official HLC approval for the new location before students start receiving Title IV funding.

CONTRACTUAL ARRANGEMENTS

Instructions

- All arrangements previously approved are displayed. Please verify that data shown are correct.
- You will need to assure all contractual arrangements meet the following definition:
 - The contractual partner is not accredited by a recognized accreditor.
 - The contractual partner provides a percentage of the academic content of one or more degree programs of Title IV eligible certificate programs.
 - The contractual partner provides academic content not just a course delivery platform.
 - Your institution issues the degree or certificate for these programs.
- Adding or modifying a contractual arrangement may require prior HLC approval. Details about HLC's policies and procedures related to institutional change can be found on HLC's website.

Definitions

Contractual Arrangements

The initiation, modification or renewal of a contractual or other arrangement wherein an institution outsources some portion of one or more of its educational programs (including instruction, oversight of the curriculum, assurance of the consistency in the level and quality of instruction and in expectations of student performance and/or the establishment of the academic qualifications for instructional personnel) to any of the following parties: an unaccredited institution; an institution that is not accredited by an accreditor recognized by the U.S. Department of Education; or a corporation or other entity.

Entity Name

Include the name of the Contracted Partner, e.g., Wilson Consulting, Inc.; Foreign University, Inc.

Relationship

Select Yes if the entity is either the parent organization to which your institution belongs or if it is a subsidiary within the same corporate structure as your institution.

CONSORTIAL ARRANGEMENTS

Instructions

- All arrangements previously approved are displayed. Please verify that data shown are correct. (Please note: HLC requires no reporting of a consortial arrangement if 24 percent or less of the credits in a degree or certificate program are coming from the consortial partner(s). These arrangements are not displayed.)
- You will need to assure that the consortial arrangements meet this definition:
 - The participating organization(s) are accredited by an agency that is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as an institutional accreditor whose scope of recognition includes the accreditation of degree-granting institutions and covers the full range of academic degrees potentially offered by the institution. By being recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as a gatekeeper agency, the accreditor fulfills specific, federally defined responsibilities within the accreditation processes.
 - The participating organization(s) provide 50 percent or more of the academic content of one or more degree programs or Title IV eligible certificate programs. (Note: only those arrangements meeting the 50 percent threshold, hence requiring prior approval, are listed.)
 - Your institution issues the degree or certificate for these programs.
- Adding or modifying a consortial arrangement may require prior HLC approval. Details about HLC's policies and procedures related to institutional change can be found on HLC's website.
